

Figure 4: An example of the benefits of buffer vegetation. This profile view (not to scale) through the site shows how the area with the maximum width of existing buffering (see Figure 6), is able to protect the seepage wetlands and associated biodiversity.